

Your research highlight should use a narrative style to engage the reader. Your target audience is a broad scientific readership. You may submit one figure that conveys the key point of the paper (please avoid lengthy captions, maximum of one sentence). The figure must be modified slightly from its published version to avoid copyright issues. Please include the following:

- Catchy headline/title to draw in your reader
- Author name(s) and affiliation(s)
- Opening statement highlighting an unknown or a question (1-2 sentences)
- Key results/findings and approaches (with link to article) (3-4 sentences)
- What are the broader implications of this work? Why should federal/state/local gov't, funding agencies, citizens, stakeholders, educators, etc. care? (1-2 sentences)